

Jekaterina Erenpreisa, Prof. of Biology (Latvia)

Jekaterina Erenpreisa defended two theses in cell nucleus organization of normal and cancer cells and acquired in 1992 the degree of Dr. habil. med. She has qualified in UK and USA, and is currently collaborating and publishing with scientists from UK, Germany, Japan, Russia, Italy, and USA. The main expertise is in cytology. She is running the Laboratory of Cancer cell Biology in the Latvian Biomedical Res&Study Centre. Her interests also include human reproduction, systems biology, and evolution. Since 2003 JE is a full member of the Latvian Academy of Science.